

Allocation was by strict alternation of position on the operating list. No random sequence was generated and no allocation concealment was possible.